Analysis

From the data provided, it seems that you have a collection of unique objects, and you are asking for a normal report. Do you want this report for all the objects in the collection? Or do you want a report for a specific object you provide? Also, what kind of normal report do you need? The normal reports usually refer to the descriptive statistics which comprise a variety of metrics such as mean, median, mode, standard deviation, variance, minimum, and maximum. Please clarify your request so I can provide the most relevant and useful response.
